TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

We are a school bus operation in the State of New Jersey running over 120 vehicles. We performed extensive testing of a fuel additive known as "SUPER ECOFUEL SAVER" manufactured by a company in Riverside, California known as MACH 3. The testing was performed on a Chevrolet Express Van purchased new in 2002. The van had a General Motors 6.5 turbo diesel engine.

Prior to the testing the vehicle was averaging 13 mpg while operating it's normal daily route. We conducted each test over a period of one week while following the normal daily route. Upon completion we were pleasingly surprised and excited to have realized an increase to 16.5 mpg. The engine appeared to be running quieter and smoother with a noticeable increase in power.
